FOOTBALL MEN ARE RELEASED; IRELAND QUIET

Situation More Calm Than Any Time in Last Week.

Lesson Commissions Begin Work in Interest Of Peace.

Belfast, Feb. 20.—Members of the Irish Republican army football team, captured at Dromore, last month, were released from the Londonderry jail today in conformity with the order issued last night by Viscount Fitzalan, the viceroy.

The situation in Northern Ireland is considerably calmer than at any time during the last week, and the fear of a clash on the southern frontier has dwindled almost to the vanishing point. The rival forces, however, retain their positions along the border and hope is expressed that the next few days will see them withdrawn, as the proximity of such heavy armed forces is looked upon as a potential menace to peace.

Meanwhile the joint liason commissions are understood to have begun their operations. They will apparently institute a sort of patrol on each side of the border, keeping in touch with each other and using their influence where it may be needed in the interests of peace.

It is stated unofficially that the decision to release the Irish Republican army football players from the Derry jail, was reached when the northern government informed the British government that it had abandoned its intention to prosecute the men. London thereupon instructed the viceroy to order their freedom.

Belfast remains quiet and the cost of the recent violence is now being reckoned. Aside from the numerous deaths and injuries there are monetary claims for compensation amounting to more than 500,000 pounds.

SINN FEINN MEETS IN CONVENTION

Dublin, Feb. 20.—Delegates to the Ard Fheim or national Sinn Fein convention which meets tomorrow were already gathering in large numbers today. About 3,000 representatives from all parts of the country are entitled to attend.

The ostensible purpose of the convention is to decide the constitution of the Sinn Fein movement, but by the discussions and final vote will be revealed the comparative strength of the supporters of Eamond De Valera and Arthur Griffith among the Sinn Fein club of Ireland.

If a split occurs, the question of the disposition of the party funds will become acute, some believe they will be amicably divided proportionately to the respective strengths of the faction, while others forecast a hot controversy and a difficult settlement.

Forecasts as to the division, if one occurs vary greatly, but most observers expect a small majority for the free state advocates.

MISS M'CORMICK HEIRESS, TO WED

Daughter of Harold F. McCormick and Granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller Engaged To Man 57 Years Old.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—Mathilda McCormick, 16 years old, today, had permission of her father, Harold F. McCormick, to marry Max Oser, a horseman of Zurich, Switzerland. Mr. McCormick announced the engagement last night in a 33-word statement. He said it was "hastened a few weeks by the fact of the recent newspaper publicity."

The romance of the young granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller was pictured by Emil L. Burgy, Chicago interior decorator, who says he is a first cousin of the Swiss equestrian, as a love of spring and winter.

"Mr. Oser is not three times Miss McCormick's age, as the newspapers have stated," said Mr. Burgy.

"He is older; he is 57 years old, not 47. He is just my age. I am his cousin and I should know.

Frends of the McCormicks said last night Mr. McCormick's announcement must have followed consent of Mr. Rockefeller. None had definite information, but all stated that even so determined a girl as Miss Mathilde has been said to be, would not dare go through with such an engagement unless Mr. Rockefeller sanctioned it.

That Oser is possessed of noble blood and also has a reasonably large independent income, also was stated by Mr. Burgy. Mr. Burgy believes that the estimate of the riding master's income at $10,000 a year is erroneous.

In explaining the relationship to Oser, Burgy stated that his father, Henry Burgy, was the brother of Oser's mother.

Max Oser is tall and staluesque, according to Mr. Burgy. His erect stature and his riding ability are direct results of many years with the Swiss artillery, said Mr. Burgy.

Friends of the McCormicks today said that the consent given to engagement by the family was in line with the training of the children. They always were given free rein in self expression, so long as their own whims and desires did not seriously interefere with their welfare. Muriel at one time demanded a separate apartment from the family in New York and the wish was granted.

Later she decided to live in a hotel and there was no objection. Mathilde's desire to live abroad, even after there was no longer need for it so far as her health was concerned, met no opposition from the family it was said.

Heiress To Wed Riding Master

Miss Mathilde McCormick, 16 daughter of Harold F. McCormick, Chicago harvester millionaire, and granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, has been reported engaged to Max Oser, 57, riding master of Zurich, Switzerland. Both Miss McCormick's parents deny the report.

RESERVE BOARD SEES BUSINESS REVIVAL SOON

Report to Congress Takes Optimistic View of Business Conditions.

Urges Careful Control of "Prosperity Tide" to Avert Reaction.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Business throughout the country, progressing through well defined circles is nearing the point of the upward swing of the economic pendulum, according to the annual report of the federal reserve board transmitted today to congress.

"There are those," the report said, "who believe that the beginning of the revival is not far distant. When it does definitely set in, it will be followed in due course by a new era of prosperity."

Business, in one of its long swings from prosperity, the report said, has followed its usual rotation, which it describes as business activity and increase in production; excessive expansion and speculation followed hitherto by panic and forced liquidation, a long period of slow liquidation, business depression and stagnation and then revival.

"In the light of recent experience," the report warned, "we should remember, when we again enter into a period of full prosperity, that a reaction will follow sooner or later and if the flow of the incoming tide can be controlled so that the crest may not be reached too rapidly nor rise too high, the subsequent reaction will be less severe and the next period of industrial and commercial activity and general prosperity will be marked by the saner methods, greater achievement along constructive lines and by a longer duration than any which we have had before."

The board confined its report to an account of the operations of the organization for the year 1921, without offering any suggestions for the board or federal reserve system.

"For some months past," the report said, "there has been a marked easing off of interest. Notwithstanding some unfavorable features in the revenue laws, the investment market is now absorbing securities at reasonable rates which could not have been considered a few months ago. Market quotations of liberty bonds have steadily advanced until they are now approaching par. Good railroad and industrial bonds also have appreciated, and there have been some noticeable advances in standard stocks. High commodity prices and great business activity usually mean lower prices for bonds, and other securities yielding a fixed income, while reduced commodity prices and lower money rates bring higher market prices for bonds."

CLOTHING PRICES LOW AS POSSIBLE

Ohio Retailers Say Further Cuts Must Be Preceded By Reduction By Manufacturers.

Columbus, Feb. 20.—Retail clothiers have done more towards deflating prices of wearing apparel than clothing manufacturers, according to opinion expressed here today by officers of the Ohio Retail Clothiers and Furnishers association attending the annual convention of the organization.

The retailers declared that they reduced prices of their goods as far as is possible until there is a further drop in manufacturers prices. Rent, clerk hire and other expenses are little lower than during the past two years, the dealers assert.

Sessions of the clothiers and furnishers association, which opens today, continues through Wednesday and those of the men's apparel club, an auxiliary organization, closes on Thursday.

The Reynard car struck the gates and broke through them and the front of the car just cleared the crossing ahead of the train. The engine struck the rear end of the car. RENEW STUDY OF BONUS PLAN

House Ways and Means Committee Sends the Finance Plan Back to Sub-Committee.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Majority members of the house ways and means committee referred back today to the special tax sub-committee the whole problem of how the soldiers bonus is to be financed. It was announced the sub-committee would meet tomorrow and would go into the question of sales tax among other things.

Opponents of the sales tax began today their plans for a fight against this proposition, Representative Dickinson, Republican Iowa, a leader of the agricultural block called a meeting of Republican opponents for late today.

Coincident with the meeting of the committee, the statement was made by a White House official that many letters and telegrams had reached President Harding opposiing enactment at this time of bonus legislation while the executive committee of the American Legion made public a telegram to the president from the legion's national commander, Hanford McNider, asking that legislation be no longer delayed.

Commander McNider in his telegram declared "the minority in opposition can be traced in nearly every case to certain selfish interests in great financial centers who have the most to lose by defeat and who would profit the most by victory." The commander said the American Legion did not understand "first committment and then retraction' in the bonus question.

Suggestions that the cash payments be deferred for a year or longer apparently have not been favorably received by Republicans on the committee and this matter was expected to come up for discussion.

Chairman Fordney has said that in his judgment the bill should provide for beginning the cash payments next Oct. 1.

Mr. MacNider in his telegram declared the legion believes that the issues now being raised relative to the revenue features required by the president to be included in the bill, are being used solely for the purpose of misleading the general public.

The national commander further asserted that whenever the people of the United States have been given an opportunity to voice their feelings on the question answer has always been unmistakable.

The legion feels that the nation wants "this debt recognized and not confused or endangered by opposition to revenue raising riders and asks that the five fold adjusted compensation bill be passed." Mr. MacNider said, adding "that there is a cash feature, but with hundreds of thousands of ex-service men walking the streets of our cities looking for work, we do not feel competent to dictate to these men their choice."

President Tells Senate— Says There Were No Secret Notes.

Yap Treaty is Ordered Favorably Reported 10 to 1 Vote.

Washington, Feb. 20.—President Harding, replying today to the senate on the Hitchcock resolution asking for information relative to the negotiation of the four power Pacific treaty, stated it was impossible to furnish the required information because most of the negotiations were conducted without the maintaining of a record.

The president said it would not be compatible with public interests to disclose the confidential negotiations of the treaty negotiations, but he declared that "there were no concealed undertakings and no secret exchanges of notes."

Almost coincident with the arrival of the President's letter, the senate foreign relations committee by a vote of 10 to 1, ordered favorably reported the treaty between the United States and Japan regarding the Island of Yap.

Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists in convening the conference today.

The organizations and groups represented, he declared, should get together in the several states and work unitedly in the approaching primaries and in the fall election and elect men who believe in fundamental American principles."

The general plan of the conference it was said, was to lay down a set of principles by which the interests of the groups represented at the conference would be looked after. While there was no expectation of forming a separate political party at the present gathering, Ghairman Johnston and other delegates expressed the hope that a new party might be organized in time to take an active part in the 1924 elections.

Meanwhile it will be the object of the labor leaders to work for the election of candidates of the existing parties who are favorable to their program.

DRAMA OF HUMAN NATURE IS FEATURED.

You do not have to be a discontented wife to enjoy the program at the Grand theater shown for the first time yesterday and remaining through today the feature of which is "Discontented Wives," a Playgoers photodrama starring J. P. McGowan.

It is a very human story Fred Windemere tells of a wife whose discontent arose out of hardships and a loneliness she had never before endured, and whose selfish nature battled with her better self.

Fritzi Brunette gives a very intelligent and sympathetic performance of the wife, and J. P. McGowan is virile and powerful as the husband. The cultivated life of New York city is contrasted with the primitive, outdoor life of California's golden hills.

NORMA TALMADGE IN "DE LUXE ANNIE."

"De Luxe Annie," Norma Talmadge's latest Selznick Revival, which will be shown here tomorrow and Wednesday at the Grand theater, is said to be vastly different from the average crook play. It tells the story of a finely-bred woman whose husband is interested in criminal psychology and who is herself transformed into a criminal by an accident. This crime she practises is the "de-luxe" game, an adaptation of the old badger game in which the woman poses as a seller of de-luxe editions and inveigles some individual with a weakness for pretty girls, where-upon her male confederate breaks into the scene and blackmails the victim whom he has found in an embarrassing position with his "wife."

Norma Talmadge is especially suited for the title role in this screen drama which calls for beauty, style and a high order of artistry in the star. Miss Talmadge's performance in this picture brings out every shade of emotional feeling in her portrayal of this crook part, lifting it far out of the commonplace by the force of her vivid personality as well as by the odd psychological twist of the story.

Kansas Mormon Near Century Mark Greets Three New Children.

Was Married In Ohio 79 Years Ago—Is Native of Virginia.

Sabetha, Kan., Feb. 20—Mrs Bertha Perkins, who will be 98 years old next April, found a real thrill recently when three additional great-grand children arrived in three Sabetha homes, with in a period of 48 hours. They brought the number of her descendants up to 274.

Mrs. Perkins' five generations of descendants are divided as follows:

10 Children, eight of whom are living.
75 Grandchildren.
155 Great grandchildren.
25 Great-great grandchildren.
9 Great-great-great grandchildren.

Mrs. Perkins was born in Virginia, April 25, 1824; married David Perkins in Ohio, March 16, 1843. Her maiden name was Bertha Marcum. In 1848 they emigrated to Iowa, and in 1857 took a homestead in this—Nemaha county—where she has lived ever since, Mr. Perkins died in 1893.

"Good and old-fashioned cooking," is the recipe Mrs. Perkins gives for her longevity. "It is no wonder people do not live to old age like they used to, considering the rich foods they put in their stomachs nowaday. People do not eat enough coarse food. Corn bread once or twice a day would improve their health. Here are a few of her ideas as she expressed them:

"I believe women should aid their husbands in voting right, but do not believe women should go into politics or vote."

"Cooking courses in schools and colleges run too much to fudge and fancy dishes. I believe still, that the best place for a girl to learn housekeeping and cooking is from mother—but I am in doubt whether some of these modern day mothers know much about such things.

"Work is the best tonic. Why, I do something every day. In the summer time I take care of my vegetable garden. Last summer I raised so many vegetables I had them to pass around among the neighbors."

"I'm going to sleep in a pup tent tonight, as I'm the only one in the bunch who thought to bring a tent along." "Lucky dog!"—Florida Times-Union.

YOU TAKE COLD EASIEST WHEN YOU ARE TRIED

Doctors will tell you that a person who is tired is the easiest victim of the cold or influenza germ. The power of resistance has been lowered, wasted tissue has not been rebuilt and the door is wide open for the entrance of the germ.

You can build up your power of resistance and gain more energy for the day's work by taking a tone food such as Father John's Medicine which is all pure nourishment, scientifically prepared in such a way that it is quickly taken up by a system that is weakened and run down. GIVES ALL THE CREDIT TO DRECO

Prosperous farmer relates how his vigor and strength were restored.

Relieved of stomach trouble after years of suffering.

Some of our substantial citizens have given Dreco a fair trial and declare it has increased their vigor strength and energy to a remarkable degree. For instance, Mr. W. H. Hargreaves, the prosperous farmer of Jamestown, Ohio, who says:

"I have taken four bottles of Dreco and it has built me up wonderfully. I am just back from a two months deer hunt in the Michigan forests the first time I have been strong enough to endure this fine sport for several Winters. I am 72 years old and you know deer hunting is a man's sport.

"I've had a bad stomach for years. My food didn't digest properly or produce much strength; gas kept my stomach bloated up and uncomfortable, my bowels were bound up and my liver sluggish. I had pains in my back over my kidneys which were very troublesome.

"I was in such bad shape I had about decided to sell my farm, but Dreco has put me back in such splendid shape that I'm going to plant all my 300 acres this year. My stomach and digestion are right again, liver and kidneys are functioning well and bowels regulated. Dreco gets my approval for it's good medicine." Free samples given.

Dreco is being specially introduced by Evans Cut Rate Drug Store in Newark and sold by druggists everywhere.

A Bible Thought for Today.

BETTER THAN SILVER AND GOLD—Godliness with contentment is great gain. For we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out. And having food and raiment, let us therewith be content.—1 Timothy 6:6, 7, 8.

THE CAMBRIDGE JEFFERSONIAN.

Wonder if the people of Cambridge fully appreciate the character of its newspaper, the Jeffersonian? To some people one newspaper is as good as another, but the fact is there is as much difference in newspapers as in people and more and more are readers recognizing merit in newspapers and are expressing their appreciation in patronage. However, there is only one newspaper in Cambridge and therefore the people of that community do not have the opportunity of comparison that other towns afford.

The fact that the Jeffersonian occupies the field alone seems to make it all the more keen to render real service. The Jeffersonian is a splendid newspaper—well printed, ably edited and managed. It has a leased wire news report and is in constant and instantaneous touch with world affairs. It carries a great many interesting features and illustrations, the same as are printed in the metropolitan papers. The Jeffersonian covers the local and neighborhood field thoroughly and is fair in its dealings with everybody. The Jeffersonian was founded by John M. Amos, who for years was a trustee of Denison University. His son, Harry Amos, son-in-law of J. B. Bowes of Newark, is its editor and another son, T. E. Amos is its general manager.

BEST DEFENSE—BUT IT'S POOR.

The best defense of Newberry yet made is that of the veteran Representative, Charles S. Kay of Clarke County. He says:

"The United States senate is the sole judge of the qualifications of its members. Had the Democratic senators been convicted, we are very certain that the Democratic senators, having similar powers and facts to guide them, would have done precisely what the 21 republican senators did in this case—seat their own party candidate, who would have been duly elected under the laws as they now stand—if the majority vote had justified it, as it did in the case of Newberry. It will be remembered that Newberry did not get off without an implied censure in the passage of a section in the resolution condemning the lavish expenditure of money in cases like this."

The point to remember is that the Democratic senators helped to throw out Clark of Montana. Will he support a movement for Willis to resign and become a candidate for his unexpired term as a vindication. We observed Kay's defense is the best yet made, but it is very poor because false.

A BETTER CITIES CAMPAIGN.

Thirty-six cities in Oklahoma, at last accounts, had entered a contest to determine which of them after a year's trial shall prove to be the best place for rearing children. A reward of $2500 has been offered by the Rotary Club of Shawnee to the city that averages the highest.

The ten points of the score, which count in winning this competition, are as follows: Facilities for play and recreation, industrial training suited to character development, general condition of schools, health conservation, management of children through interest in scouting, safeguarding of community morals, management of social affairs of adolescents, religious and recreational of men and women rendering service to young people, [illegible] situations with reference to family welfare.

What a splendid program this is! It is a mighty fine thing to get the ires of a state competing on any kind of improvement project, and an equally fine thing to see them working for such a vital improvement as this.

France came for nothing and took nothing, not even the back seat into which the British wanted to crowd her.

The goat, Mr. Nevinson was too polite to say, was Uncle Sam. Should the senate concur, he will lose the Atlantic to Britain, the Pacific to Britain and Japan. And presently he may also lose all chances of getting paid what Europe owes him.

But 'twas a glorious victory! We have every Britain's word for it. A wonderful triumph for whatever it is that happens when a great people are delivered into the hands of their rivals.

GOOD LUCK!

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Joe Cannon says he will not seek a renomination for a twenty-fourth term in congress. He thinks he is getting too old for further service on Capitol Hill. The absurdity of such a notion is obvious when it is recalled that Joe won't be eighty-six until the coming May. Why, he has only well begun.

But if Joe won't he probably won't. When he was speaker he either would or wouldn't, as he saw fit, quite regardless of what the country at large thought. So if he has determined now to retire at the end of the present congress he will probably do so in spite of what the eighteenth Illinois and the rest of America thinks about it. Which an idea no matter how absurd, gets implanted in a young fellow's mind argument is quite useless.

Congress will never be quite the same with Joe gone. He is an institution, almost as much a feature of Washington as the monument or the dome. Like them he towers above the commonality; like them, too, he is unmoved by the gentle winds of opinion or the blasts of disapproval. Once a "czar" and now the most democratic of democrats, he has done what few have accomplished before him—written his name into the lexicon of politics. "Cannonism" will remain after Cannon leaves.

On purey selfish grounds Uncle Joe's retirement offers him the opportunity of reading and enjoying his own obituaries. He may make a scrapbook—nay, a shelfful of scrapbooks—of the cordial things that will now be said of him. Even the state representative who proposes to succeed Joe at Washington will be glad to contribute.

When a woman announces that she has nothing further to say she proceeds to say it at great length.

High Voltage Mental Activity Kills Hair Follicles.

We remember one time Rody McPhee, of the Springfield, Mass., Union, said he was going to "get a hair cut," and all his readers thought he meant he was going to get a whole mop of hairs cut; but we, who know the style of Rody's bean, know that "a" hair cut was exactly what Rody meant.—Judd Lewis in Houston Chronicle.

We have convincing evidence in the shape of a portrait that Judd Lewis were to express his intention of getting A hair cut it would be a case of gross exaggeration.

Hello my dear old friend I. G.
I've been looking for a line,
A letter or a card would do
Or say a valentine.

Most every fellow sends his girl
A corsage of pretty flowers,
Or a nice big box of bon-bons
To eat during leisure hours.

Of course I'd be most satisfied
With a box of your nice kisses,
But somehow I'm not lucky
Like all of the other misses.

Have you really forgotten all about me?
Or is my vision wrong?
I never see your cunning smile
Nor hear your happy song.

Now I'm sending this little missive
And I'll wait so patiently
For a great long letter addressed
To the girl called—

Sweet Marie.

Q. Can you tell me where the thickest vein of coal in the world is and in the United States? G. N. C.

A. The bureau of mines says that the thickest coal seam in the world is the Fortuna mine near Cologne, which is 100 meters or 300 feet thick. The thickest seam in the United States of high-grade coal, is in the Mammoth seam near Wilkes Barre, Pa. This seam is 50 feet thick, some folds running as high as 60 to 80 feet.

CHINA REALLY OPENS DOORS

Old Walls Are Being Torn Down and Streets Widened.

Education Is Changed, With Best of Western Thought Introduced.

(By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.)

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Is the door in China really opening? Are her youth movement, her contest over foreign spheres of influence, her new culture movement luring her down the ladder of centuries to an occidental landing?

This seems to be indicated by her new policies. Walls of old cities are torn down; congested districts are being transformed into broad streets and parks; education is changing to suit the demand for a new culture "in which what is best in western thought is to be freely adopted." Ancient superstitions and the gods of yesterday are rapidly being discarded under broadening educational influences—chiefly American. China "wide open" the walls" was steeped in mystery, buried in orientalism. The "Flowery Republic" today stands on the remnants of its walls and looks back at old China as the ancient customs change and progressive China emerges.

From city to city the wall destroying move has traveled until it has at last reached Canton. Nowhere are changes more strikingly apparent than in this the ancient metropolis of South China, the second largest non-Christian city in the world. Known as Yang Chin—the city of Rams—Canton is from a commercial standpoint the New York of China. One of the chief manufacturing cities of the country, hundreds of articles of merchandise are turned out: silks, embroideries, jade, blackwood furniture, carved ivory, cloisonne, lacquer ware, idols, incense burners. Pottery manufactured in Canton is exported to nearly every country in the world. Exquisite small ornaments are made from the brilliant feathers of the kingfisher bird; rich brocades are woven into oriental patterns by the hand loom. The majority of the industries are carried on by trade guilds, some of which have whole districts devoted to the production of their respective wares. One most interesting section for visitors is the factory district where the blackwood-cutters' guild is located. Here are fashioned for occidental eyes, tables and chairs of teak wood carved in beautiful and strange designs. The carver is proud of the fact that his ancestors worked in the same shop, with the same tools, long before the "foreign devils thought of coming to China. Near the chair carver will sometimes sit an idol carver putting the finishing touches on his image, preparing it for its coating of gilt. Yet, side by side with this ancient handiwork may now be seen some of the modern machinery of the twentieth century. Thus Canton becomes a sample of China's sharp contrasts; a constant forging ahead of the new over the old, the first step in the march of progress being the destruction of the restricting walls.

As the great mass of Chinamen are totally lacking in what Americans know as public spirit, and are closely bound together by family ties and traditions, the progressive modern officials had to prepare public sentiment of the physical changes such as the destruction of these ancient walls and the straightening of streets. The latter was a tremendous undertaking. Old Canton is made up of hundreds of small twisted streets or alleyways each darker than the other, allowing only the passing of a sedan chair. Tiny and crooked they were made at this time in order that evil spirits in pursuit could not travel in a straight line but must zigzag around corners. Right above these six-foot streets, a mere strip of sky shows between overlapping balconies and signs, and through the narrow passageway a babeling humanity flows. Through it floats the odor of burning fish and sewerage, smouldering joss sticks, the bouquet of ancient remains of skinned dogs and rats offered for sale. The visitor notes the fatuous titles of the streets through which he has passed: the Street of Refreshing Breezes, and the Street of Nine-Fold Brightness. The Street of Ten Thousand Grandsons is more aptly named.

Against this ingrowing spirit of devotion to old methods, ways and places, the more progressive of the controlling powers have at last made appreciable headway. Public spirit is to a large degree adjusted and Canton now boasts of several broad highways, graded and macadamized, over six miles of paved avenues and one large park beautiful in occidental manner. Thus has occidental "push" arrived and the wealth of Canton, at the present time, may even discard the calm of a sedan chair and revel in the speed of a modern flivver.

Other improvements are under way. The famous "City of the Dead" with all its weird rituals and ceremonies will soon be transformed. For years the Cantonese have buried their dead in the land surrounding the city. A recent authority places the graves with in the present city limits at 18,000,000. The Chinese have the greatest reverence and worship for the spirits of their ancestors, and once buried it is a sacrilege to disturb them. The far reaching effect of the new forward movement can best be appreciated when it is known the decree has gone forth by the municipal city fathers that the necessities of the living outweight the claims of the dead. The coffins are being dug up on an average of 20,000 a month, and soon Canton will add more miles to her broad macadam streets.

The young officials whose orders are magically transforming China are said in some quarters to have modeled the "Young China" party after Mazzini's Italy party—that their cry is save, transform, rejuvenate China. On the other hand the charge is brought against them that they are "returned students," men who have come in contact with the "destructive" influences of western civilization. In this fluid mass known as "Young China" largely composed of returned students, there are two elements of western influence. One is composed of those who have had the benefit of education at American universities and are therefore inculcated with American principles; the other, of those who after the Russo-Japanese war flocked to Japan to study, or who, living there as refugees imbibed its influence and culture beyond that of any absorbed in the west. The new culture movement is made up to a large extent of Americanized Chinese and Japanese Chinese with varying aspirations, for western ideas straight from the west and western ideas gathered via Japan are apt to have different objectives. However, whatever the influence by which China is being pushed and rejuvenated, whether it be an outgrowth of the student movement of 1919 or a characteristically Chinese one promoted by Chinese students who have never left home the results will be watched with unflagging interest.

They are working to build up a new regime, to create a new mind. This mind is being trained through the new intellectual movement to look forward, instead of backward; to place itself on the common meeting ground with changed thought an dconditions of today. New China is cleaning house and claiming her own in the modern world forces.

Good roads are supplanting protecting walls. Picturesque landmarks are disappearing, but the door is beginning to swing wide.

YOUNG MOTHER NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faith in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound led Her to Try it

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED. P. HANSEN, 562 Symmonds St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors—they know its worth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

HIGH CLASS FILMS FEATURED AT GRAND UNDER PRICE'S DIRECTION

Has Made Success of Plan to Improve Nature of Daily Picture Program at Movie Theater—Splendid Pictures Booked For Next Few Months.

Charles E. Price, proprietor of the Grand theater, which is located in South Park place, is one of the well-known horsemen of the state and while he is not now actively interested in any horseflesh, he still retains his old interest and is a close follower of the performance of horses. He has had a varied experience in the business world. He started out in the world in 1898, when he took charge as manager of a stock farm or race horses at Defiance. Two years later he took charge of a larger stable of horses at Napolean, Ohio, where he trained and raced horses until 1902, when he leased the fairgrounds at Findlay where he conducted horse racing. During this period he was the owner of a large string of horses and actively traded, bought and sold.

In 1904 he became interested in the Washington Horse Sales company, of Washington Court House where he remained for two years. He then established a roller skating rink at Waverly, Ohio, and shortly after that purchased a hotel at Ashland, Ohio. In 1908 and 1909 he was located at Mansfield where he purchased, sold, trained and raced speed horses.

In 1910 he became interested in theaters at Mt. Vernon and acquired the Lyric theater there. Shortly after that he acquired a restaurant there and in 1913 purchased the Princess. Two years later he disposed of the Princess theater and restaurant and operated the Lyric at Mt. Vernon until May of 1918 when he sold it and moved to Columbus. During the winter in Columbus he managed the Strand theater there and early in 1919 he purchased a grocery store which he operated for a year before purchasing the Grand theater here January 15, 1920. Price all through his varied business career has had the best of success and always could find a buyer ready to purchase any business that he might offer for sale.

Associated with him in the management of the Grand here are his two sons, Edwin Price and Hershel Price. Edwin Price is advertising manager for the theater and Hershel assists his father at the theater.

The Grand theater shows only the highest class pictures and their bookings are confined mostly to Robertson-Cole, W. W. Hodkinson, Associated Producers, Associated Exhibitors, Selznick and Vitagraph productions.

During 1922 the management has contracted for all of the Robertson-Cole pictures and for all of the Selznick pictures as they are produced. These well-known firms produce a picture on an average of every two weeks and bookings of other pictures are made through a film exchange which provides the newest releases each week.

The program for this week includes "De Luxe Annie," featuring Norma Talmadge, a Selznick feature, Tuesday and Wednesday; "God's Crucible" adapted from Ralph Connor's story, "The Foreigner," Thursday and Friday; and the "Battling Kid," a Kipling release featuring Bill Payton for Saturday.

After next Saturday the serial feature which has been a part of the regular Saturday program will be discontinued and features and comedies will be run exclusively. Special serials will be continued on Sunday or other days of the week as they are scheduled, however.

Announcement is made of the starting of Federal Comedies, March 21, 1922, to be shown in the Grand theater exclusively in Newark. These Federal Comedies will feature "Snooky," the Human Chipanzee, the Hallroom Boys and Monte Banks.

Feature pictures which are on the Grand theater booking for the next months are "Fifty Candles," adapted from the Earl Derr Biggers story of the same name; "The Rider of the King Log;" "The Swamp," featuring Sessue Hayakawa; "I Am Guilty," featuring Louise Glaum; "The Guilty Conscience," featuring Antonio Moreno; "A Pair of Silk Stockings," featuring Constance Talmadge; "Cameron of the Royal Mounted," adapted from the story by Ralph Connor; "The Single Track," featuring Corinne Griffith; "The Ruse of the Rattler," featuring J. P. McGowan; "The Mysterious Rider," from the story by Zane Grey; and "Clay Dollars" featuring Eugene O'Brien.

Charles E. Price, since acquiring the Grand, has completely remodeled and redecorated the theater into one of the most attractive in Newark. In December of last year a Symphony organ was installed at a cost of $6,000. This organ is one of the most complete of its kind in the world and adequately furnishes the highest class of music to the patrons of the theater.

The Symphony organ has 15 stops and is arranged somewhat like a player piano in that it can be operated by hand or by means of rolls of music. Mrs. Lillian Frame has been engaged as organist.

The personel of the Grand theater consists of Charles E. Price and his two sons, Edwin and Hershel, Miss Virginia Crean, ticket seller, Herbert Horner, machine operator and Andrew Cramer, machine operator.

The Grand theater was established several years ago by A. L. Thomas who later took Frederick Stevens into partnership with him. Stevens purchased a part interest and later acquired Thomas' interest in the theater. Stevens later sold the business to A. L. Bock from whom Price purchased it in 1920.

EFFICIENCY IS GROWING

General Tire Company Head Says Better Work Is Being Done.

Life and Responsibility Taken More Seriously, He Declares.

Sales of The General Tire & Rubber company for December and January, the first two months of the new fiscal year, have more than doubled in dollars and cents the sales for the same two months a year ago. Because of the price reductions the past year the company's increase for the period mentioned is practically 200 per cent in unit sales. Indications are that February sales will be as large or larger than present figures. All of this goes to substantiate the recent statement made by General Manager Wm. O'Neil at the annual meeting, to the effect that while 1921 was a markedly profitable year for General the business should double in 1922. The sales of the General Tire & Rubber company have increased steadily in the last two years. Its profits have been sure and its dealers have made money; its dividends have been paid regularly and at the same time the company has been able to adjust itself readily to price reductions through which the etire user now obtains his supplies at figures distinctly lower than at the beginning of the war.

Increased production in the Central factory has been accomplished with out any marked increase in the number of men employed. Officials explain this by pointing out exclusive mechanical devices used in the company's very modern factory and by the increased efficiency of the men themselves.

"Everywhere," they say, "in the professions, mercantile field and mechanical work, men are doing more and better work than they did in the hysterically prosperous period that followed the war. Life and responsibility are taken more seriously. In our own case we are able to turn out with our improved methods, practically three times as much product per man now as we did three years ago and today's output is more carefully and skillfully made than when the post-war boom was on. That is one reason why we have been able to combat competition so successfully and meet selling price reductions as they came."

Men familiar with tire making and selling emphasize the fact that all of General's tires are sold to individual car owners, through dealers. None are sold to car manufacturers to be equipment for new cars. General's growth, therefore, reflects a growth in the business of legitimate tire dealers. It is pointed out that this indicates plenty of business for the aggressive tire merchant and proves that there is no "saturation point" in tires, that whether new car sales boom or falter, millions of cars already in use are wearing out and replacing tires all the time. "On this," say General Tire company officials, "we base our belief and plans for a 100 per cent increase in business in 1922 over 1921."

BRIDE TO BE GIVEN AWAY BY HER FATHER, THE KING

Princess Mary and three views in Westminster Abbey, where she will be married.

(By MILTON BRONNER.)

London, Feb. 20.—Westminster Abbey, the greatest and one of the oldest shrines in all Britain, is to be the scene of the wedding of Princess Mary, daughter of the sovereigns of England, to Viscount Lascelles. And already the sounds of the hammer and the saw are to be heard where usually there is the intoning of the choir and the thunder of the organ.

For the first time in 640 years the abbey is to be the scene of the wedding of a child of the British sovereigns. In that time more history has taken place in this wonderful building than in any other in the world.

Kings have been wedded, crowned and buried here.

Many of the greatest captains that ever led British armies and many of the greatest poets have found a last resting place here. The above is the last resting place of Britain's Unknown Soldier who fell in the great war.

Large as the church is its seating capacity for a great event is comparatively limited.

The princess bride expects to enter by the great west door and walk down the entire length of the great nave. Therefore carpenters are now at work erecting platforms in the nave where some two thousand invited guests will be seated.

The scramble for tickets to these places has already started and thousands who think they ought to get places will be bitterly disappointed.

The chancel will be reserved for the members of the royal family and the representatives of foreign powers, among whom will be our ambassador, George Harvey. The chairs on which all the guests will sit will be brought from Buckingham Palace.

No seat will be provided for King George, as he has announced his intention of giving his daughter away in person. He will therefore escort her down the nave to the altar and stand beside her until the time comes to hand her over to the bridegroom.

As a show it will probably be the most gorgeous London has seen since the coronation of the king. The streets from Buckingham Palace to the abbey will be gaily decorated and will be lined with troops in all their gorgeous pre-war scarlet with gigantic bearskin busbies. Invitations have been issued to the king and queen of Italy, Belgium, Spain, Rumania, Sweden, Denmark and Norway.

The princess hopes, weather permitting, to drive to the church in an open carriage.

Princess Mary, during the wedding ceremony, will use a beautiful Church of England prayerbook which is being specially printed and illuminated for the purpose. A beautifully woven altar cloth of pure white silk will be used on this occasion. This belongs to the abbey and as a rule is only used on Easter Day. It is magnificently embroidered in gold and is called a masterpiece of its kind.

The wedding ring is now being manufactured by the court jewelers. It is of pure Welsh gold that has been presented by Pritchard Morgan to Viscount Lascelles.

The wedding ceremony will be performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, assisted by the Bishops of London, Oxford, Norwich and Ripon.

When the princess bride goes to the home of her husband she will find there "some" cake to cut. The National Association of Master Bakers, Confectioners and Caterers, representing more than 8000 members of the trade, recently wrote to the princess asking if they might present her a wedding cake. The king replied he'd be much obliged, and so that's that.

To Be Season For New Silks

A new silk is certain to receive a warm welcome since it fills a long-felt want. It is guaranteed washable in all of its lovely colorings from the most delicate pastel to the most brilliant, as well as white and black. They are shown in radiums, jerseys, crepe-de-chines, crepes and several of the typically sports weaves.

Among the novelty weaves the most striking shows long threads looped in heavy clusters across its surface. When made up, this has somewhat the effect of fringe, except that it has no loose ends. It comes in two tones of blue and in a combination of tan and blue.

Pongee, which is a favorite with so many women and which has no equal for many occasions, is shown this year for the first time in several seasons in a wide range of colors. These include, beige, rose, moonlight and Chinese blue, henna, several browns and cerise. An exceptionally heavy grade is offered under its Oriental name.

Foulard promises to appear at many smart affairs this season and therefore it takes on a smartly distinctive appearance. Blue is well liked and both brown and green will be seen. Designs are usually white and neat little figures vie with bold, dashing patterns. A striking design shows a red oval in a double white ring. Tan on blue is also very smart.

Temptation Besetting A Business Woman

By WINONA WILCOX

The average business woman has her full share of opportunity to observe love in its 57 varieties. She knows well that most of such romance is due to propinquity; nevertheless, it is hard for some girls to admit that any man is flattering her—just because she happens to be handy.

From one who is frankly critical of herself comes this:

"Your letters to lovers are vastly interesting even when an inquirer plainly is searching for excuses, as I suspect I may be doing now.

"Am a mature woman who ought to be qualified to judge my own conduct for myself, nevertheless, I want to ask a third person for an opinion about the following conditions:

"A fine professional man and I, a successful business woman, share common business interests. I am married to a good man but am obliged to work for a salary. We have no children.

"The professional man has a charming wife who has been something of an invalid for a decade. He calls her a splendid little body but a spoiled child who has hysterics if he is abstracted at home, and who gets fearfully bored if he talks of his affairs to her.

"You see I am stating my excuses to start with.

"Now he and I both try to see each other when it is not at all necessary. We have wonderful conversations. And only occasionally does he presume upon an intimacy which may or may not indicate something more than friendship.

"If I tell him so, he explains that he is starving for a bit of sympathy and understanding.

"Never has he said anything more than that. Never anything about caring for me, other than by a rare touch or glance!

"But he compliments me upon the things I wear and the way I wear them; he says that I am so alive that I am a tonic for all the woes of a hard day; he brings his favorite books to me to read; and wishes we could see the good plays together.

"Now I want to know if there is a danger that this thing will go much farther?

"Is there any wrong in such a friendship? Or is there not?"

Few men and women have found the path described anything but slippery.

Either the girl's good husband will think that he sees what does not exist, and will act desperately as if it were the truth; or the "other man" will gradually slip from compliments to love-making.

It seems to me that every office woman ought to ask herself at the close of a perfect business day if she has shared with any married man a conversation which she could not have carried on in the presence of his wife.

If so—and if she were the business man's wife—what would she think about it?

Certainly that is a simple and fair test of what is friendship and what is something else between married men and women in the business world.

CREPE STILL POPULAR

Crepe and other dull materials retain their popularity. Feminine folk are loath to accept materials with much of a sheen, just as all winter they have steadfastly refused to bring down the hem line of their day-time frocks. Long panels, such as those used in this Realart gown, are much used to give a lengthened effect and their vogue seems to be firmly established for spring.

Most of the gowns have long sleeves and not a few of them are loose at the wrist.

Grosgrain ribbon is exceedingly good as a trimming this season.

SPRING SUITS.

Monkey jackets are back! Newer than the very straight lined jacket, they will probably not be seen quite so much this spring, but they're on the way! And designers say that by next fall there will be a very decided waist line on the new garments for outdoor wear.

POLLY and PAUL ....and PARIS

By Zoe Beckley

CHAPTER XL

POLLY GETS AN IDEA

After their dinner in the treetop, they prowled down the ladder and strolled through the pretty wood.

"How did it ever get the name 'Robinson'?" wondered Polly.

"Seems to me it was something about Robinson Crusoe." Paul was fishing among his guidebook reminiscences. "Didn't the old boy build a shack in a tree? Anyhow," he finished helpfully, "it was something like that. Come on, let's beat it for the inn before all the rooms are taken."

The nearest real village was a mile away. They tramped it, loitering and singing, hand in hand, like happy children. As they reached its single street, a slender crescent moon was glowing, putting the last touch of loveliness to the scene.

"Here's the place! Oh, Paul, how adorable!" She said it in a whisper as if the thing might fade away. "Let's get that room with the stone stairway on the outside, and roses all over everything. How lovely these old stone houses are!"

"It's a real home, Paul," she told him later, after her visit. "I wish we had a chance to see more French homes. * * Paul."

"H'm?"

"Do you ever get a qualm of homesickness, living like we do, in a hotel?"

"What made you think of it, dear?"

"Oh, I've been thing of it ever since we talked last night about Barray and—the sort of flyaway existence a bachelor like that leads. You might almost as well be a bachelor yourself, Paulo, for all the homelife you get, poor lamb. Don't you sometimes hanker for it?"

"I've always hankered for it, Pussycat, because I've never had it."

"We've been here nearly three months. How much longer do you suppose we'll stay?"

"I expect a cable any day now, giving me orders. We've done well on the whole, you know. They might want us to stick on a while. Why, darlint, what's on your mind?"

"Home?"

"You mean you want to go home, dear?"

She shook her head and looked at him with dancing eyes.

"No—make one here! A flat! A little cute, absurd flat Francaise, if it's only two rooms! Isn't it a peach of an idea? The more I think about it, the wilder I am to do it this very instant!

"I'm going to find a flat and housekeep, and meet you every evening with my sleeves rolled up and an apron on! You don't know what I can do, once I make up my mind. I'm going to prove to Aunt Sue that you can be domestic in Paris!"

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED—

You will remember that a professional talker is the same kind of a bore.

You will not flatter. It is well known as insincere praise.

You will remember that the diffident say what they think and the verbose think what they say.

VEILS ARE THE FAD.

In spite of the many new and attractive meshes which are being shown in veils for spring, the mesh most often seen is the very fine one with small chenille dots thickly inset. The body of the veil is most often white with a dot harmonizing in color with the costume.

CARE OF CARPETS

Spanish and French Grace In Full Skirted Frocks

© WOMAN'S INSTITUTE Fashion Service.

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN

An exponent of the silhouette that is of Spanish inspiration but with a color scheme and decoration that is decidedly French, this fascinating evening frock of French blue taffeta, silver lace, and pink roses is one that the youthful American type would grace with especial charm. Evidently the skirt is divided in allegiance between the extremely short length that was adopted with so much enthusiasm some time ago and the longer skirt that many designers recognize as being correct, for by means of a band of pink tulle it aspires to the newer decree, while at the same time it keeps a conservative hold on the popular length that the scalloped edge indicates.

Full-skirted evening frocks are of very great interest at the present time, but the slender silhouette is in equal favor and if you are not of the youthful willowy type that is enhanced by the voluminous skirt, you may follow the more lenient long lines with no misgivings whatsoever.

FROM MOTHER'S COOK BOOK

The dessert for an invalid should always be very dainty and appetizing. Very often the dessert adds quite as much to the nourishment of the meal as the main dish.

Never serve a sick person anything that is not perfect in its way. If the custard is overbaked and seems watery don't serve it. Let some well member of the family eat it to "save it," but prepare a fresh one for the invalid. After a patient is well enough to eat, his food means more to him and his speedy recovery than most cooks realize.

Frozen Cream.

One cup whipped cream, 1½ tablespoons powdered sugar, 2 teaspoons vanilla.

Fold sugar into whipped cream. Add vanilla and turn into a baking powder can. Pack in ice and rock salt and let stand three hours, stirring occasionally.

Junket Ice Cream for One.

Three-fourths cup sweet milk, 1-4 cup sugar, 1-4 junket tablet, 2 teaspoons cold water, 1-2 teaspoon vanilla, 1-4 cup whipping cream.

Heat milk and sugar until luke warm. Remove from fire and stir in the junket tablet dissolved in the cold water. Crush the tablet before covering with water. Let the milk stand until it cools and jellies. Then stir in the vanilla and pour into a baking powder can. Pack in a pail in ice and rock salt and pour over a strong brine. In ten minutes scrape down the edges of the mixture and beat in the cream whipped until stiff.

Let stand two or three hours, scraping down the sides as they freeze. Test the can before filling with the mixture to be sure no salt water can seep into it and spoil the ice cream. The junket makes the milk more easily digested.

Hot Fruit Drink

One quart grape juice, 3-inch stick cinnamon, 4 whose cloves, 6 lemons, 2 cups sugar, 3 cups water.

The spices in a little cheesecloth bag. Put in the cold water and bring to the boiling point. Add grape juice, sugar and lemon juice. Let simmer without boiling for five minutes. Remove spices and serve. A spoonful of slightly sweetened whipped cream may top each glass. Sprinkle with grated nutmeg.

WILL POWER WON A PLACE IN GRAND OPERA FOR HER

Elizabeth Lennox

Elizabeth Lennox, a minister's daughter, and a few years ago a resident of Grand Rapids, Mich., used to help with the church music by playing the piano and organ.

But Miss Lennox couldn't sing. She couldn't carry a tune.

Today Elizabeth Lennox is one of the few really successful American singers She has been in grand opera and is now on concert tour.

The answer?

Will power!

Elizabeth Lennox wanted to sing more than anything else in the world!

"A soprano voice was needed in the choir of my father's church," says Miss Lennox "I tried to fill the place and found that I couldn't sing at all!

"Those were dark days for me," continued Miss Lennox, "to sing was the only thing I realy wanted to do.

"I kept perfectly still about my disappointment, though—you know a parsonage is no place for family complaints—and continued playing for Sunday school.

"Finally, when I entered Chicago University my career began.

"I decided that I should get back my voice in spite of everything As soon as reached Chicago I secured a teacher. My spending money all went for lessons. I skipped classes and slighted my studying—every bit of my career I put into my voice.

"Then, one day, after I'd been studying about a year there was a church audition posted and through a drizzling rain I went to Warren Avenue Congregational Church, stood up there with my legs shaking and all these wet clothes on and sang for the church committee. I was the last of a long line of other girls, just as wet and shaky as I who were competing for the place

"And I got it—with the voice I had reclaimed!"

"And no one knew until then," added Miss Lennox, "that I was even trying to sing."

Youth Weds In Ignorance Says Author

(By ALICE ROHE)

New York, Feb. 20.—"The way the human race treats its marriage question is criminal."

Mrs. Mary K. Maule, whose book, "God's Anointed," has caused so great a discussion on account of her unorthodox position on the religious question and because of her lucid analysis of marital adjustments, was the speaker.

"Young girls and young boys marry without understanding the physical, spiritual or biological significance of marriage," she said. "A marriage is no marriage which is not a spiritual one.

"The trouble is, many people think, when we say spiritual marriage, it means a sanctomonious, ascetic matter. But the real spiritual marriage includes all the relationships between man and woman which the creator of the race intended should exist."

In "God's Anointed," Mrs. Maule presents with her clear psychology the marital adjustment of a young clergyman whose devotion to his church is an obsession, and his young wife, a woman of the world. Through many mental and material vicissitudes they finally reach what Mrs. Maule says is the greatest thing in marriage—mental and spiritual understanding and perfect comradeship.

"One of the great illnesses of the world," she continued, is the unhappy marriage. "Too many men and women marry from one of three causes: Physical attraction, youthful romance, propinquity.

"It is never too early to begin giving children an idea of the importance of the home and their relation to that home and to society. Young people have too little sense of responsibility—too little knowledge of what life really means and the forces which make for happy marriage."

Published at the same time as 'God's Anointed" and by the same author was "The Bryne Girls," a wholesome, simple, vivacious story of the modern girl in business life It is said to be the best girl's book since Louisa M. Alcott. In this, as in "God's Anointed," Mrs. Maule gives a study of adjustment.

Both books teach a constructive and uplifting life philosophy—one for the "budding intellect," the other for the mature mind

Mrs. Maule is the mother of three children, all prominent in the world of affairs.

MAUDE ADAMS SEEKS A NEW DIVERSION

Maud Adams

Schenectady, N. Y., Feb 20.—It was a red brick building on a side street here, in appearance a cross between a store-house and a church, in which I found what Maud Adams of "Peter Pan" fame, calls her "studio."

There are tin signs, "Garage," "Cars Repaired," on the outside. No hint of Maud Adams, former Broadway headliner.

It was on the top floor of an old-fashioned house on another side street that I found Miss Adams, her secretary, Miss Boynton, and her housekeeper.

With the death of her close friend and manager, Charles Frohman, who went down on the Lusitania, Miss Adams' interest in her own stage career waned. Of late she has been rotating between the red brick studio laboratory and her top floor apartment.

She devotes practically all of her time experimenting with light and color with a view to movie reproduction in colors.

Occasionally, perhaps once in six months, she goes to her apartment at St. Regis Convent, New York.

Old friends are aiding her in her color experiments — friends who worked with her to get lighting effects while she was on the stage.

Lyman Clark, an attache of the office of M. P. Rice, vice president of the General Electric company, is her right-hand man.

"When Miss Adams needs a certain kind of light Mr Clark hustles around and gets it for her." says Rice

The interior of the Adams studio is arranged like a small theater. In front and about two feet below the level of a small stage is a very powerful electric light which illuminates the stage for photography.

In the first test Miss Adams made she used real grass, ferns and foliage. The test film was sent to New York and tried out. It is understood her first experiment in color reproducing was partially successful.

Spirit and Soul Not Technique Produce Music

New York, Feb. 20.—Elly Ney—she crossed the room, hand extended, a ringless hand, quite white, quite strong.

Elly Ney—pronounced Nigh—has been in America three months.

"I like America," she said and then smiled at her own ordinary phrase., Because Elly Ney isn't rdinary, else she couldn't be the new star on the musical horizon. She is a pianist.

Clothes?

"Incidental! Superficial!" says she.

It has been rumored that Madame Ney wears no buttons on her clothing. "Perhaps—perhaps!" English is still quite new to her tongue. "But buttons—what are they to music?

"I wear clothes that are easy to wear. I can't be fussing with more fastenings than must be! But I have no particular aversion to buttons more than to hooks!"

Her musical gift?

There Elly Ney is at home! She talks!

"When I was little I used to sit behind the piano and listen to my mother play. She was a musician. I tried to play the tunes after her."

At 10 Madame Ney earned a scholarship in a Berlin conservatory. At 16 she won the Mendelssohn prize—a grand piano—in a contest of which Joseph Joachim, violinist, was one of the judges.

As for technique—Elly Ney dispenses with it in a line:

"It doesn't exist for me!" says she.

"Music is soul! There is no soul in hours and hours of practice with only technique in mind. You say when you hear the wonderful technician—'He goes so fast—that is wonderful' But music is not speed. It is not doing something the same way every day. It is spirit. It is soul"

That is the definiton which Elly Ney—whom America is hailing as the new musical star—gives for music

"American audiences are very healthy," says she, "They are not spoiled, not blase." This after playing in all of the great centers of Europe.

"PREACHERS' KIDS" EFFECT ORGANIZATION AT CORNELL

Miss Ruby Lent

Mt Vernon, Ia., Feb. 20.—Tired of the general opinion that children of preachers are different than ordinary children the preachers' children of Cornell college, here, have organized the "Preachers' Kids" club, commonly known as the "P. K.'s."

Miss Ruby Lent has been elected president and she wants the world to know what it's all about.

By RUBY LENT
(President Iowa "Preachers' Kids.")

From the time when mother used to dress me all up in my starchy dress for Sunday school until my grown up high school days, my friends have said, "Oh, you can't do that or that because you are a minister's daughter."

I think that way down deep in our hearts there has been a secret resentment toward this idea. This feeling cropped out in the form of a meeting called for the organization of a "P. K" society at Cornell college "P. K." stands for "Preachers' Kids" and it is our purpose to disprove for all time the popular idea that preachers' children are different than other children.

So enthusiastically has the idea been accepted by Cornellians that at the present time there are 48 members of our loyal band, and I feel that we have already proven to our classmates that we are just like they are.

The "K. P.'s" are classed as among the most all around students in college, taking part in all student activities from the volunteer band and the Home Service association to the Howling Hundred and the midnight pep meetings.

It is one of the most exclusive organizations in the college, since one is born into it, unless one's father should turn preacher while the student is in college. So there is really some distinction to it

We feel that preachers' children everywhere have a strong bond between them and we are working toward the formation of a state and national organization with its headquarters at Cornell.

We want to "hang together" for fellowship among ourselves, for hearty friendship with others, and for real accomplishment in the world.

CHILD AUTHOR IS WORRIED ABOUT BEING A PRODIGY

Miss Virginia Komiss

Chicago, Feb. 20.—"And please don't say I'm a child prodigy," pleads little Miss Virginia Komiss, who at nine, is the author of 15 plays and almost 100 stories.

Her name hasn't gotten into "Who's Who" yet and if Virginia has her way it never shall.

"Because I want to grow up into a very normal sort of woman and have babies and a home and just be me," she says most gravely and in an astonishing matured voice.

"I write plays because I like to. Most of them are based on fairy stories and all of them point out some sort of moral showing what will happen to little boys and children if they're good all the time."

Psychologists who have examined her say Virginia has the developed mind of a 21-year-old woman.

She has been writing plays since she was six.

She also is an accomplished musician. For pastime Virginia reads Homer's Odyssey and is familiar with the characters of Shakespeare Both her mother and father are endeavoring to shield her from any sort of suggestion that she is anything but just a very usual type of girl.

Scores of youngsters about the country have appealed to Virginia to teach them how to write.

And to all she replies:

"Just be good and play hard and if you can write—well, just write. But rather be just a healthy child than a curiosity."

Some of her plays have been produced in amateur juvenile theatricals for which Virginia directed the cast and planned the scenes.

At the present time she is considering collaborating on a book for children with her father and publishing it.

When asked what she wanted to be when grown, Virginia said:

"Just a woman—a good, sweet woman like my mother, and keep house."

"My face s my fortune," simpered the girl. "Well, it might make money for you in comic films at that."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

ONLY WOMAN ON COMMISSION TO CENTENNIAL

Mrs. Arthur Livermore has been appointed by President Harding as a member of the American Commission for the Brazilian Centennial.

She is the only woman member of the committee of six. The commission will have charge of America's participation in the exposition in Rio Janeiro, next fall, which will commemorate the centennial of Brazilian independence.

Mrs. Arthur Livermore

Mrs. Livermore's son, Russell, is an assemblyman in the New York state legislature. Her husband is an attorney. She is a prominent member of the League of Women Voters and was one of the leaders, in New York state, in the fight for votes.

Congress has appropriated $1,000,000 for representation of the United States at the exposition.

YOUNG ACTRESS HAS ABILITY, BUT PLAYS ARE FAILURES

Helen Menken

New York, Feb. 20.—Helen Menken is now known on Broadway as "the success of failures."

"Drifting" is her third play of the season. It will probably be interred before the ground thaws out.

Her other two plays this season were "The Triumph of X" and "The Mad Dog."

Critics have joined in an anvil chorus against all three of these plays, but above their diatribe arises a paean of praise for the work of Helen Menken.

This writer considers her portrayal as the dipsomaniacal girl in "The Triumph of X" one of the outstanding accomplishments of the season. The only two performances of feminine stars placed above it are those of Pauline Lord in "Anna Christie" and Lenore Ulrich in "Kiki."

She took Alice Brady's role in "Drifting" on three days' notice. It is a many-sided part in a play of indefinite aim and loose mechanism, yet her performance on the first night was flawless.

Some day some producer will find a vehicle for Helen Menken that will allow her full play upon her personality and that will possess enough logic to allow it to thrive throughout a season.

Then Helen Menken will be known as one of the greatest actresses of the decade.

Yardely—"Did your wife go in for athletics when she was at college?" Yearwedd—"I believe she held the record of jumping at conclusions."—Judge.

GRANDMOTHER WRITES 6 BOOKS SURREPTITIOUSLY

An octogenairan grandmother, on the verge of publishing six books!

Such is Mrs. Francois Berger Moran, wealthy society dowager of Washington, D. C

"Twin Souls," a novel which is being brought out by a Boston publishing company, is the first of the six that is to appear. It has also been accepted in scenario.

"If one really does things one is before the public eye; and if one does not do things, he is useless." This is the key-notes to Mrs. Moran's charitable and social activities, as well as her literary efforts.

At the age of 15 she wrote "Little Buttercup," which was published in serial form under the nom de plume Frank Fairley.

Mrs. Francois Berger Moran

Her father, a true Virginian, on learning of the enterprise of his daughter, Jeanne, emphatically forbade any further writing by her.

Surreptitious writing, of course, was the result. From 10 to 12 each morning her quill flew.

"Broken Idols," a two-volume novel, which she calls her life work, was one of the outcomes of this secret writing.

One of her books written 30 years ago, is built wholly on eugenics.

"When I meet people I look for the good in them. Some look for dust amongst the diamonds; I look for diamonds in the dust," Mrs. Moran says.

BELIEVES IN MIRACLES; ONE SAVED HER LIFE

Mary Moore

Do you believe in miracles?

Mary Moore does. She was one of the first patients in New York, of Dr. Adolph Lorenz, noted Vienna surgeon.

Two months ago she was in an auto accident. Her skull was fractured in two places—her spine, in three. She was unconscious for 28 days.

Yet today—

She is walking around bearing no mark of her close call.

"I want to get back to work," she tell Dr. A. J. Barker Savage, superintendent of the Broad Street hospital. "It's my busy season now.

"But I suppose I oughtn't complain. I would have been a dead one, if it weren't for Dr. Lorenz, and Dr. Morris, and Dr. Dieffenbach, and—"

The physician stopped her.

"She is the luckiest girl I know," he said. "I have had emergency cases for many y[illegible]. But I never seen a more wonderful recovery"

Miss Moore is a young actress. She had played some important parts. But her biggest chance was coming.

William Faversham had engaged her to be his leading lady.

She got her lines and started to learn them. Her sister drove her to the country where it was quiet.

Then the auto accident.

For three days she lay in a friend's house at Long Island. Then she was removed to the hospital.

"With his marvelous hands," Mrs. James Moore, mother of the girl, explained, "Dr. Lorenz placed Mary in a plaster cast. He used one of his famous splints

"After 18 days it was removed.

"A few days later Mary could turn her head"

Customer—"These grand opera records seem imperfect. There's a sort of racket in each one heard above the sound of the music." Demonstrator—"Ah, yes, one of our latest effects. That's the conversation in boxes. Wonderfully realistic, isn't it?"—Boston Transcript.

The City Council will meet in regular session tonight.

Elks' Minstrels This Week.
The Elks' annual minstrel show will be given Feb. 22 and 23. The seat sale for both nights is unusually large and Wednesday's matinee promises a full house. The full dress rehearsal "went with a bang" and everything is ready for a good show.

New Serv-Self Grocery.
Newark's first serv-self grocery and bakery was thrown open for business Saturday at 23 South Park Place. The equipment is brand new and the plan of operation is novel in this city. Mr. Doneff carries a full line of groceries, meats and baked foods of all kinds. There are no clerks to wait upon you and service is prompt because you wait upon yourself.

Newark Grange Meeting.
Newark Grange will hold regular session Thursday evening. The lecture hour will be devoted to a literary program. The meeting will open at 7:30 o'clock.

Has Been Seriously Ill.
Mrs. Nettie Cripps, of 63 Western avenue, who has been seriously ill at the Newark Sanitarium for the past two weeks, is slightly improved.

The pension of Samuel Wagoner, Company E., Second Ohio volunteer infantry, has been increased from $50 to $72 a month, dating from Oct. 15th, 1921, on account of old age and infirmity. Representative Morgan secured the increase for Mr. Wagoner.

CHRIST'S RELIGION IS FOR ALL NATIONS

The religion of Jesus is for all ages and for all nations, Rev. J. H. McCartney of the Central Church of Christ declared last night in an evangelistic sermon on "The Religion of the Common Man." A large crowd heard the sermon. Frank C. Biddle sang "In the Garden" and gave several other sacred solos by request.

"We find delight in new things, new books, new songs," said Rev. McCartney, "but we often find a more lasting joy and satisfaction in things that are old and time-tried. The religion of Jesus is not for one age, but for all ages. Not for one nation, but for all nations. Jesus lived and taught in a way that appeals to all classes of people. He lived the life of a common man, but the far-reaching power and influence of that life has meant more to the world than the life of any earthly king in all history."

Rev. Mr. McCartney stated the reason Jesus was rejected by his people was because the Jews had looked forward to a Messiah who would come as a mighty earthly king. When He was proclamed as the Messiah, they followed Him about, and would have made Him their king if He had so desired, but He refused. His mission was to live as a common man, teaching that "He who would be first among you must be servant to the rest." After over nineteen hundred years the world is coming to appreciate this attitude more than ever; people do not want kings with absolute power to lord it over them. They do not want Kaisers or Czars. He who would be at the head of a nation must be the servant of his people.

Rev. Mr. McCartney's subject for tonight will be "Religion in Practice." Mr. Bibble will sing "Eternity." The meeting opens at 7 o'clock.

DONEFF'S NEW STORE OPEN FOR BUSINESS

Many Attended the Opening Saturday and Took Advantage of the Special Prices.

The opening of Doneff's Home Bakery and Self-Serve Grocery at 23 South Park Place Saturday, was largely attended and many took advantage of the wonderful values offered for sale on opening day. The method of conducting business at this store is entirely new and different. The stocks are so arranged that customers can select the articles wanted and pay for them as they pass out. The store os styled the Self-Serve store and no long waits are experienced because customers wait on themselves. The room has been remodeled into one of the most attractive salesrooms in the city. The fixtures are new and modern and add much to the attractiveness of the store. A full and complete stock of choice groceries, meats and home baked foods is carried and you will find readily what you want and at reasonable prices too. In the free drawing contest which was conducted Saturday, the first prize, a fancy set of dishes was awarded Henry Myers, 315 Central avenue.

Something Every Careful Thinking Person Should Know

The equipment of a modern cleaning plant and the manipulation of this equipment is something the public, as a whole is grossly ignorant. When you learn from statistics that there are two hundred thousand places in the United States and Canada, held out to the public as cleaning establishments, and that only two per cent of this number or four thousand are properly equipped to render a sanitary service, you will realize there are many interesting things in this connection that every careful thinking person should know.

Germs can not live in a properly equipped cleaning plant, where disinfectants, machines equipped with hot air and other means of extermination are used.

The equipment at Smith's Benzol Dry Cleaning and Dye Works, 111 West Main St., consists of underground tanks, dusting machine, dry cleaning machines, extractors, drying machines, distilling machines, presses, and all under steaming appliances.

If you could see the quantity of common street dirt that sifts from your clothes when dusted in the special dusting machine and pile of muck and filth that remains in the bowl of our benzol purifier after the purification of the benzol used in cleaning you would have a better [illegible] of the [illegible] worth of this [illegible] industry. 2-20-22-24

The last taps are sounded;
the drum beats are o'er,
The gay bugle's call
Will arouse him no more.
'Twas God! the Great Commander
That called him
And his soul goes marching on
Over on the Golden shore.

ASHBROOK TALKS TO "UNCLE JOE"

Former 17th District Congressman Tells Oldest Congressman That He Should Retain Seat as Long as He Lives.

Louis Ludlow, who "watches Ohioans run the government," tells in his Sunday letter of Wm. A. Ashbrook's friendship for "Uncle Joe" Cannon, congressman who announced his intention to retire next month. Ludlow says:

"When former Representative William A. Ashbrook of Johnstown, Ohio, was here a few days ago he expressed to Uncle Joe his regret that the old war horse had announced his retirement from congress.

"'This is the place for you,' he said. 'You ought to stay here as long as you live.'

"'No, no,' replied Uncle Joe, thoughtfully. 'I'm no account over here any more.'

"Ashbrook and Uncle Joe have been close friends for many years, notwithstanding the fact that when Uncle Joe was speaker all the favors Ashbrook got from the chair could have been balanced on the point of a pin. Uncle Joe was the "czar" of the house when Ashbrook first entered congress many years ago, and in that capacity he was clothed with full power to appoint all of the standing committees.

"His theory of distributing committee appointments was that they should be placed in such a way as to keep the Republican party in power and the Democratic party out of power. In carrying out that theory he assigned Ashbrook as the nineteenth and last member on the committee on coinage, weights and measures and tucked him neatly away on the committee on militia, which at that time was about as important as a last year's bird's nest. Ashbrook stuck on the committee on coinage, weights and measures all through his congressional career, and before the Republican landslide of 1920 retired him by a plurality of 212 votes he was chairman of that committee.

"'In every campaign in the North the Republicans repeat the catchphrase that the 'South is in the saddle' as far as the Democratic party in congress is concerned,'" said Ashbrook. 'They never stop to inquire who put the South in the saddle. It was Uncle Joe Cannon who put the South in the saddle. He did it by giving all of the desirable committee assignments to members from the South, where the Republicans never have a chance of carrying a congressional district, and by assigning Northern Democratic members to little, insignificant places on the tail-end of obsolete and unimportant committees. In that way he strengthened the hold of the South on legislation, which it retains until this day. I do not blame him. It was a shrewd game of politics and he played it. But, just the same, it was Uncle Joe who put the South in the saddle.'"

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE GAMES ON TONIGHT

Burke Golf and American Legion clash tonight in the Y. M. C. A. Industrial Basketball League. These games were moved up one day on account of the High school game Tuesday night.

Less than a month remains in the schedule of the Industrial League and the clashes beginning tonight are fights for standing in the league schedule.

Burke Golf and Heisey meet next week. The setting of high score records by these three teams means that a lively time can be expected when those teams meet.

The constant shifting of players on the post teams rather gives the edge to the golfers in tonight's scrap. It will be the consistent team work that will win in tonight's clash, and the team that will settle down to it quickest and pole it longest will be the winner.

New York, Feb. 20.—Foreign oils were the outstanding features at the active and firm opening of today's stock market. Adjustment of export taxes between the Mexican government and American oil companies resulted in an opening advance of 1 1-4 points for Mexican Petroleum, this being doubled in the next few transactions.

Missouri Pacific preferred rose 1 1-2 points, St. Louis and San Francisco common one point and coalers, especially Reading and Lehigh Valley, grained large fractions. Sugars and chemicals represented the firmer specialties.

Last week's accumulation of low priced or speculative rails was resumed on a broader scale during the morning. St. Louis southwestern common and preferred, St. Louis and San Francisco common and preferred, Southern Railway common and preferred, Chicago Great Western, Kansas City Southern, Texas and Pacific, Western Pacific nad New Orleans, Texas nd Mexico rose one to two points. Royal Dutch and Pan American followed the further rise of Mexican Petroleum, Shippings were active and strong, especially Pacific Mail and American Ship and Commerce, Motors and Accessories, including Electrical Equipment rose 1 1-2 to three points. Chicago Grain Review.
Chicago, Feb. 20.—New high price records for the season were reported today in the wheat market. Crop damage reports from the southwest together with fresh upturns n Liverpool transactions appeared to be chiefly responsible. According to field advices each day without rain or snow in Kansas has been adding to crop losses and it was indicated that conditions in Oklahoma were worse than had heretofore been generally believed. Opening prices which ranged from 1 1-4 to 2 1-2c higher with May $1.42 to $1.42 3-4 and July $1.25 to $1.26 were followed by decided further gains and then a moderate reaction.

Corn and oats ascended with wheat, corn starting 5-8 to 1c higher, May 63 1-4 to 63 1-2c and then making a slight further advance.

In oats the opening was 1-8 to 1-2c higher, May 41 5-8 to 41 7-8c, and later there were some additional gains.

Provisions followed the upward course of hogs and cereals.

AUTO LOCK IS CAR NECESSITY

It Must Be Easily Operated for Greatest Benefit to Owner—Makes Insurance Cheaper.

"The development of the automobile lock has kept pace with the increased production of motor cars and the ever-increasing need for protective devices," says Frank R. Warren, president Simplex Corporation, Chicago.

"Insurance companies recognize the value of an approved type of lock by actually paying car owners to install them. Unless cars are so equipped a $25 penalty is imposed on the owner when he applies for theft protection. This is in addition to the 15 per cent increase in his premiums The penalty alone more than covers the cost of the lock and the reduction in premiums is a distinct saving to the car owner.

"Those who are interested in the automobile industry can remember back a few years when an auto lock was a filmsy affair, made only to keep the ignition switch from being easily operated.

"The present-day lock, that has secured the approval of the Underwriters' Laboratories, is made so substantially that it takes very rough treatment, indeed, to overcome it.

A lock must work easily and be accessible. The human element must be considered. Man is a lazy animal. He will not go out of his way to do even the obvious. Let a lock be hard to operate and he will take a chance by letting his car stand unlocked if he is going to be away only a few minutes. Perhaps he even leaves the motor running—an invitation to the thief," Please come and take me."

The ideal auto lock should lock the car so that it cannot be driven or towed without being unlocked. The lock that affords the greatest protection should be prominently located so that it is in plain view from the street—that precludes the chance of the thief working on it while crouching inside the tonneau. The lock itself should be one that cannot be easily picked or that cannot be worked without the use of the owner's key.

And, of course, the whole device should be strong enough to successfully resist any ordinary manipulation which might take place without attracting the attention of passersby.

DOES IT CATCH YOU —right in the back?

It may be that you are now [illegible]ly attacked by pain in back (lumbago), or limbs, "neuralgic" pains shooting anywhere. Backache of any kind is often caused by kidney disorder, which means that the kidneys are not working properly. Poisonous matter and uric acid accumulate within the body in great abundance, overworking the sick kidneys. Perhaps you have become nervous, despondent, sick, feverish, irritable, have spots appearing before the eyes, bags under the lids, and lack ambition to do things. The latest and most effective means of overcoming such trouble, is to drink plenty of water between meals, and take a single An-uric (anti-uric) Tablet before each meal for a while, or until recovered.

Simply ask your favorite druggist for Doctor Pierce's Anuric Tablets (kidney and backache remedy).

Send 10 cents to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

Many folks in town, as well as every place in Ohio have been benefited as was Mr. Johns.

Cincinnati, Ohio.—"I have been a great sufferer from backache and kidney trouble. My work is pretty hard on the back and I got so bad that I could hardly bend over or straighten myself up to do my work and it was an effort to get up in the morning. I was in such a state that I was willing to try anything, and did try many things. I heard of Dr. Pierce's Anuric (Kidney and backache) Tablets at last and tried them. Two bottles took all the pain and kink out of me. I want to say, 'Anuric' has them all beat."—Albert Johns, 1730 Eastern avenue.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

BALTHIS GETS AN EARLY START

Has Players Engaged For His Semi-Pro Baseball Team For This Summer.

Although two months must elapse before the season is here Manager Jimmie Balthis has all of his players signed for this season. Balthis team got a late start last season. He didn't open until September 8. It won every game, defeating such teams as Heisey's and New Albany. It will open the season May 11 against Reynoldsburg at Hebron. Manager Balthis is trying to get an exhibition game with the Columbus Senators for Tuesday, April 11. The team will play this game at Scott field, Newark. Balthis will build a new grandstand to seat 300 people. The baseball team will go under the name of "Balthis Filling Station." The players that will be in the Balthis layout are: "Scoop" Bovie, captain and second base; Pete McFarland of Jacksontown first base; Pete Mauger of Basil, short stop; Dr. Jury of Newark, third base; Paul Taylor of Newark, left field; Cashdollar of Pataskala, center field; Homer Nichols of Pataskala, right field.

MILWAUKEE BOWLER SETS NEW RECORD

A new world's record has been established in bowling.

On February 4 at Madison, Wisconsin, in the singles event of the Wisconsin State tournament, Herbert Ewald of Milwaukee rolled a total of 738.

Previous to Ewald's performance, the best score in state or national events was 737. This record was held by another Milwaukee bowler, Waly Swift, who established his mark in 1919.

Ewald gave a consistent performance, getting 247 in his first game, 244 in the second and coming right back with 247 in the final game.

Ewald had only one break in the series. It came in the second frame of the second game, when he picked the number 5 pin off the number 9.

In the tenth frame of the final game a perfect hit left the 10 pin standing. That was the crucial moment of the entire series.

Ewald needed that ten pin spare to set a new record. He made it with ease. He proved that he had the nerve of a champion.

EAST HIGH PLAYS IN NEWARK TUESDAY

The Newark high school basketball team will play Columbus East High at Hickey hall Tuesday night at 7:30. The Columbus team comes here with a record of a string of victories, one of the most interesting perhaps being the defeat of Zanesville on the Zanesville floor several weeks ago by a score of 34 to 14. Newark is as yet undefeated this season, having eight straight victories to her credit.

Mt. Vernon high defeated Columbus East Saturday night by a score of 38 to 24.

Friday of this week the Newark high basketball team will go to Zanesville and on March 3 and 4 will go to Delaware where it will engage with the other teams of the southern division in an elimination basketball tournament at Edwards gymnasium. The Newark team has received a special invitation from Ohio State university to engage in a special tournament with seven other hgh school teams from the central part of the state, March 17 and 18.

WALKOVERS TAKE FIRST DEFEAT HERE

The Golden Tornadoes defeated the Columbus Walkovers, Saturday evening at the Y. M. C. A. by a score of 27-23. The game was a hard fought contest from start to finish. Up until Saturday the Walkovers had not lost a game this season. Although the visitors were leading by a score of 12-11 at the end of the first half, Newark won due to the good coaching of Ellsworth Davis. Graeser and Wright played best for the Tornadoes while Wentzel played best for the Walkovers. In the preliminary game the Bluebirds won over the Whirlwinds by a score of 38-8. The Walkovers and the Tornadoes have each won one game and the tie will be played off in Columbus in the near future. Referee, Montgomery; Timer, Vail; Scorer, McDaniels.

ZBYSZKO TO RETIRE.

New York, Feb. 20.—Stanislaus Zbyszko, world's heavy weight wrestling champion, plans to retire undefeated in May and to place his title in the care of his younger brother, Wladek. The younger Zbyszko is to engage Joe Stecher, former champion, in a bout in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. If Wladek wins his older brother will make his plans for retirement.

LEGION MEN SUPPLY BLOOD

Transfusion Operations Possible When Ex-Soldiers Volunteer to Make Sacrifice to Save Lives.

Cleveland, Feb. 21.—Not all the blood of patriots was spilled in the war. Unemployed ex-service men living at the American Legion barracks here are supplying almost all the blood needed for transfusion operations at Lakeside hospital. A quart or so means nothing in the life of these doughty persons.

The hospital has called upon the barracks a number of times in the last two months, and has never failed to get volunteers. "One call came at 8:25 in the morning, and twelve minutes later 25 men reported at the hospital for 'duty,'" said a Legion official in charge of the barracks. "Almost all the men in the building offered to go, though they did not know that the blood would be bought and paid for."

Walter Maslaka, who served two years overseas, is one of the regular volunteers. He seems to have an excellent supply in his veins. Recently his blood was accepted for transfusion into the veins of an out-of-town patient. After the operation he said he wasn't particular about being paid for a little act like that, but that he wouldn't mind if someone would help him find a job. He is a machinist—a very red-blooded machinist.

DENISON DOES NOT GAIN BY SMALL FLOOR

One of the little speeches that a rival basket-ball coach can make to arouse the disgust of Walter Livingston, athletic director at Denison, is to say, "Well, I do not know whether we can win on Denison's small basket-ball floor or not. Denison has all of the advantage at home." So says H. A. Miller in the Columbus Dispatch.

Walter some time ago compiled statistics showing that the Denison basket ball teams have not a 500 average at home. Most of its championships or first division successes in the last decade have been won on foreign floors. This sort of thing should end some of these discussions about the Denison floor. The Baptists like it no better than visiting teams and the day is coming when it can be discarded for something vastly more satisfactory to Mr. Livingston as well as his foemen.

Alhambra Starting Today

One man, one wife! Enough? Civilization insists on monogamy, but men question it!

Faith to one wife—or the unleashing of the predatory love instincts of a man's mind.

AN ADAPTATION OF THE NOVEL BY W. B. MAXWELL.

THE DEVIL'S GARDEN

LIONEL BARRYMORE

IN HIS FINEST SCREEN ACHIEVEMENT.

Fealty to one woman or the unleashing of the predatory love instincts of primitive man.

The age-old battle rumbled in the Devil's Garden of William Dale's mind.

He looked to his wife for the guidance of wifely purity, but found the vortex had claimed her, too.

While the woman atoned with years of patient love and service, the man struggled against forces that grew stronger and then flung him against irresistible temptation in his own home—a shulamite desirous and to be desired.

FRITZ LEIBER in the PLAYS OF SHAKESPEARE

Direct from the triumphant weeks on Broadway, New York City, where his new, human conception of Shakespeare caused all attendance records to be broken—

THE EXPLANATION:

"Besides his natural qualifications as a Shakespearean actor—good looks, grace, poise, voice, magnetism, training and all the rest, Fritz Leiber as star and director of his company has one godlike quality that should crowd the theater. He Makes Shakespeare Live Again. He acts simply and naturally—that is the way Shakespeare should be played—as a joyous reality. Everyone will enjoy Mr. Leiber's interesting productions.
